Three Points for Consideration.

During the past five years the VEGETINE has been steadily working itself into public favor, and those who were at first most incredulous in regard to its merits are now its most ardent friends and supporters.

There are three essential causes for these having such a horror of patent medicines, changing their opinion and leaning their influence toward the advancement of VEGETINE. 1st—It is an honestly-prepared medicine from barks, roots and herbs. 2d—It honestly accomplishes all that is claimed for it, without leaving any bad effects in the system. 3d—It presents honest vouchers in testimonials from honest, well-known citizens, whose signatures are a sufficient guarantee of their earnestness in the matter. Taking into consideration the vast quantity of medicine brought conspicuously before the public through the flaming advertisements in the newspaper columns, with no proof of merit or genuine vouchers of what it has done, we should be pardoned for manifesting a small degree of pride in presenting the following testimonial from Rev. J. S. Dickerson, D. D., the popular and ever-genial pastor of the South Baptist Church, Boston:

The Tired Body Sues for Sleep.

BOSTON, March 16, 1871.

H. R. STEVENS, ESQ.:

Dear Sir—It is as much from a sense of duty as of gratitude that I write to say that your VEGETINE, even if it is a patent medicine—has been of great help to me when nothing else seemed to avail which I could safely use. Either excessive mental work or unusual care brings upon me a nervous exhaustion that desperately needs sleep, but as desperately defies it. Night after night the poor, tired body cries for sleep until the day-dawn is welcomed back, and we begin our work tired out with an almost fruitless chase after work. Now I have found that a little VEGETINE taken just before I retire gives me sweet and immediate sleep, and without any of the evil effects of the usual narcotics. I think two things would tend to make brain-workers sleep. 1st—A little less work. 2d—A little more VEGETINE. The prescription has helped me.

Now I have a particular horror of "patent medicine," but I have a greater horror of being afraid to tell the straight out truth. The VEGETINE has helped me, and I own it up. Yours &c.,

J. S. DICKERSON.

Valuable Evidence.

The following unsolicited testimonial from Rev. O. T. Walker, D. D., formerly pastor of Bowdoin Square Church, Boston, and at present settled in Providence, R. I., must be esteemed as reliable evidence. No one should fail to observe that this testimonial is the result of two years' experience with the use of VEGETINE in the Rev. Mr. Walker's family, who now pronounce it invaluable:

PROVIDENCE, R. I., 164 TRANSIT STREET.

H. R. STEVENS, ESQ.:

I feel bound to express with my signature the high value I place upon your VEGETINE. My family have used it for the last two years. In nervous debility it is invaluable, and I recommend it to all who may need an invigorating, renovating tonic.

O. T. WALKER.

Formerly Pastor of Bowdoin Square Church, Boston.

The Best Evidence.

The following letter from Rev. E. S. Best, Pastor of the M. E. Church, Natick, Mass., will be read with interest by many physicians; also those suffering from the same disease as afflicted the son of the Rev. E. S. Best. No person can doubt this testimony, as there is no doubt about the curative power of VEGETINE.

NATICK, MASS., JAN. 1st, 1874.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—We have good reason for regarding your VEGETINE a medicine of the greatest value. We feel assured that it has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age; for the last two years he has suffered from necrosis of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so far reduced that nearly all who saw him thought his recovery impossible. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his ever rallying; two of the number declaring that he was beyond the reach of human remedies, that even amputation could not save him as he had not vigor enough to endure the operation. Just then we commenced giving him VEGETINE, and from that time to the present he has been continuously improving. He has lately resumed his studies, thrown away crutches and cane, and walks about cheerfully and strong.

Though there is still some discharge from the opening where the limb was lanced, we have the fullest confidence that in a little time he will be perfectly cured.

He has taken about three dozen bottles of VEGETINE, but lately more but little, as he declares that he is too well to be taking medicine.

Respectfully yours,

E. S. BEST,
MRS. L. C. F. BEST.

H. R. STEVENS, ESQ.:

Dear Sir—From personal benefit received by its use, as well as from personal knowledge of those whose cures thereby have seemed almost miraculous, I can most heartily and sincerely recommend the VEGETINE for the complaints for which it is claimed to cure. JAMES P. LUDLOW,

Late pastor Calvary Baptist Church, Sacramento, Cal. oct23-1m

TO PHYSICIANS AND INVALIDS.

The flexible, self-applying Electric Disks, Dr. Garratt's invention, make without care or trouble, "gentle and prolonged applications" of very fine primary currents. They prove sufficiently active and durable for this peculiar method.

While worn by night or day for cold rheumatic neuralgia, lameness, weakness, or chronic pains, the disk is more to generate and apply its constant multipolar electric action. Each metal acts as element and pole. They are wired avalanche for deep polar inworking. As shown by the expert judges, and in practice, these disks excel all other attempts at this sort of appliance. Nothing like them.

GENERAL NEWS.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Franklin Coming.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.

The signal observer at Barnegat reports a large steam frigate with two smoke stacks, burning soft coal, looks like the Franklin, is passing north, out of signal distance.

Massing Troops at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.

Four companies of the Fourth artillery, 250 men, arrived here today from South Carolina, and reported that arrangements had been made at the Arsenal to receive two regiments of infantry, or a thousand men. Three companies, who are now on their way east from Forts Riley and Fetterman, will, it is said, be sent here instead of New York.

BY CABLE.

THE EASTERN CYCLONE.

One Hundred and Twenty Thousand Victims.

LONDON, Nov. 18.

A telegram from Calcutta states that later accounts say, 120,000 persons perished during the cyclone which passed through Eastern Bengal on the 31st of October. The government is taking active steps for the relief of the distressed.

MISCELLANEOUS.

LOUISIANA.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 19.

After the Returning Board met, yesterday, the question was raised as to whether the Board could begin the compilation and canvass until all the returns had been received. It was determined to begin on Monday, the 20th, and take up the parishes alphabetically, or by Congressional districts. Col. Zacharie, chairman of the democratic committee on election and returns, requested to know whether the presence of counsel representing democratic candidates would be allowed to be present during the deliberations of the Board. The President replied that only in cases where disputed points arose would counsel for both parties be called. He added that counsel would be permitted to inspect returns when they were opened, in order to see whether they had been tampered with. Col. Zacherie, for counsel of democratic candidates, filed a plea against the constitutionality of the Board, and protested against certain action. The Board will determine, tomorrow, whether the argument in this protest will be permitted. No election was held to fill the vacancy in the Board.

The Rumored Omission of the Names of Electors.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.

A Times Washington dispatch says the report that five names of electors were left off the ballots in Louisiana arose from the fact that they were accidentally omitted from a very small number of ballots, not enough to affect the result in any way, and no importance is attached to the report.

FLORIDA.

The Question of Counting the Electoral Vote.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.

A Tallahassee dispatch to the Herald says: Gov. Stearns is considering whether it is not his duty to personally canvass the vote for electors, on the ground that the state law makes no provision that the canvassing board shall canvass votes for "electors"; it only declaring they shall count votes for "all state officers, members of congress and legislators." The word "electors" does not occur. In response to the committee of democrats who waited upon him on this subject, Governor Stearns said if he decided to canvass the vote for electors, he would give them a full hearing on their protest against his action. The democrats claim that the board should canvass the electoral vote, as the electors are state officers within the meaning of the law.

What The Eminent Democratic Lookers-on Say.

Manton Marble, who is at Tallahassee, says the whole machinery of election in Florida is under republican control and that the whole exertion of the democrats of Florida and of democrats from other states here assembled has been and is to secure and prove the official records, for they establish the fact of a democratic majority over and above all frauds as yet attempted or accomplished. Those frauds have not quite sufficed to effect their purpose. Messrs. Robertson and Rollins, of New York, arrived at Tallahassee Saturday night. Republicans from all parts of the state are gathering there and the hotels are jammed.

A Tallahassee dispatch to the Times says Governor Reed canvassed the vote for the electors in 1872 and gave certificates to them in that year before the canvassing board met, and it is reported that Governor Stearns will do the same this year. He informed the democrats, Saturday, that if he decided so to do, he would hear both sides on the matter.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

The Returning Board give the State to Hayes and Wheeler.—The Supreme Court to Decide Upon the Returns.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 19.

In the meeting of the Board of Canvassers, yesterday, the count was resumed, the Board confining its action simply to opening the returns from the several County Boards and aggregating the votes by them. Certificates were given for the vote cast for the several candidates for Presidential electors. The result was soon reached. The following is the table of the votes returned: Republican Electors at large—Bowen, 91,786; Winsmith, 91,876. District Electors—Johnson, 91,852; Hurley, 91,839; Nash, 91,801; Cooke, 91,138; Myers, 91,890. The Democratic Electors at large are—Barker, 90,836; McClowen, 90,737; Harrington, 90,895; Ingrain, 91,798; Wallach, 90,905; Erwin, 90,906; Aldrich, 90,850. Pending the preparation of certificates to the Supreme Court, announcing the result, the Board took a recess. It is generally believed here that on reception of this declaration, the Court will make a final order declaring that the Hayes electors are duly appointed to cast the vote of South Carolina in the Electoral College.

ACCIDENT IN SOUTHERN OHIO.

A PLEASURE PARTY DRIVEN OFF A BRIDGE.

Three Persons Fatally and Ten Seriously Injured.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 19.

A party of fifty six persons left this city late last night, in two furniture wagons, to attend a German wedding some distance out in the northwestern part of the country. About ten miles out, at the crossing of the West Fork, in the darkness, one of the wagons, containing thirty six people, was driven off the side of the bridge, falling twenty five feet to the rocks beneath. Louis P. Bramlege, aged 67, had his spine fractured, and will probably die. Joseph Meyers had his skull fractured. Mary Kleinburg, aged 10, suffered concussion of the brain, and is supposed to be fatally injured. Nine or ten others were more or less seriously injured.

FALL OF A FLOOR IN PERRYVILLE, N. Y.

Four Persons Seriously and Others Slightly Injured.

UTICA, N. Y., Nov. 19.

During an Episcopal Church entertainment at Hill's Hall, Perryville, Madison county, Friday evening, the north part of the floor gave way, precipitating over fifty ladies and children ten or twelve feet to the floor below. Mrs. H. L. Kesler had her right leg broken, bone badly shattered, left arm and foot bruised. Mrs. John Cress and Mrs. David Wells were severely injured about the chest and body. Mrs. Cora Maines, knee and ankle sprained, and others were painfully bruised. Mrs. Cress may not survive.

FROM EUROPE TODAY.

A More Pacific Outlook.

LONDON, Nov. 20.

The papers today generally take a more hopeful view of the situation. The Times says: "This morning opens so fairly that we are perhaps led to be too sanguine in holding that peace is assured. It is hard to believe that when ten persons, all representing powers deeply interested in keeping the peace, meet in council they will not maintain the peace unbroken."

British Forces in Egypt.

The Times Calcutta dispatch says the Pioneer states that the Indian government is preparing to send a strong contingent of troops to Egypt, if war is declared in Europe.

Germany and Austria Will Not Oppose the Entrance of Roumania.

The Daily News special from Vienna says it is positively stated that neither Germany nor Austria would oppose the Russians' entry into Roumania.

The Russian Force.

A Berlin dispatch to the Daily News says the highest estimate which even Russians give of the portion of the Russian army now in process of mobilization, is 250,000 men.

The Servians Want Enthusiastic Muscovites.

A News dispatch from Belgrade says five hundred Russians arrived there Saturday. There seems to be a disposition to have the Russians who were disgusted with the Servians during the late campaign replaced by fresh and enthusiastic men.

Retirement of Marshal Serrano.

LONDON, Nov. 20.

The Madrid Imparcial states that Marshal Serrano has determined to retire into private life.

Russia Impressing Merchant Marine.

A Berlin special to the Times reports all the ships of the Russian Black Sea Navigation Company impressed into the service of the Russian Government.

Arrest for Conspiracy in Poland.

The Standard's dispatch from Berlin says the Russian police profess they have discovered a plot in Poland. The Roman Catholic Bishop of Zeytomiorz, in the province of Volhynia, has been arrested and imprisoned at Moscow. Several Polish curates have been arrested at Warsaw. All dealers in arms are subjected to stringent regulations.

The English Cotton Spinners Lockout Averted.

The Operative Cotton Spinners' Association held a meeting at Manchester yesterday, and while justifying the Blackburn strike, directed the men to return to work. This action averts a lockout which would have affected 80,000 Lancashire operatives.

SHOCKING THEATRE ACCIDENT.

The Floor of Moore's Opera House in Sacramento Gives Way. Seven Persons Killed and One Hundred Wounded.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.

A despatch from Sacramento says that last night, during the performance at Moore's opera house, the floor gave way, killing seven and wounding about 100 spectators. The opera house was situated over a large livery stable on Second street, between K and L streets, and was formerly used as the state armory. It has recently been converted into a theatre by putting up a gallery and a tier of boxes, making the hall capable of seating 1000 persons. The floor was unsupported, except by the usual beams. A vaudeville troupe had engaged the theatre, and, it being the opening of the establishment, the house was crowded. Soon after the performance commenced a sudden sinking of the floor was noticed, accompanied by cracking of the beams, and directly the entire auditorium, carrying with it the gallery and stage, was precipitated into the stables beneath. The rear portion was partly supported by the stalls beneath, and the audience were thrown toward the stage. The lights were extinguished by the concussion, and a scene of fearful confusion ensued.

The fire alarm struck, and in a few minutes the firemen were on the ground, and with the assistance of the police proceeded to rescue the wounded and remove the dead. A great crowd had meantime assembled, and the excitement was intense. Hundreds of people crawled from the ruins unassisted and uninjured. On clearing away the debris the following were found to be dead; W. Perry, janitor of the court house; Frank Meyers and W. J. Foster, compositors in the Record and Union office; Henry Vaca, Ezra Woolson, formerly county treasurer.

Michael Tiemann and two unknown performers escaped with some bruises. Eddie Peak of the Swiss Bell Ringers, and Mrs. Wilson, a variety performer, were also injured, but neither of them seriously. Many of the wounded taken from the ruins are in a critical condition, and a number of them will probably die.

THE FASHIONS.

The form of the woolen costumes shows little change since last winter, polonaises being still in high favor, but the costume, divided into three parts, with the small jacket for out door wear, still finds purchasers. There is very little luxury, and no elegance, in the costumes for morning walking dresses; the most fashionable Parisians are wearing costumes of thick cloth, the same as their husbands and brothers wear for morning coats, dark almond-colored cloths, either checked or striped, or dark brown with yellow lines. The make is very simple—a habit bodice fastened with mother-of-pearl buttons. Short close-fitting jackets, make of mastic cloth, and cut exactly like a man's jackets, are also considered stylish wear at this season of the year. The Sauvage, on the Boulevard des Italiens, makes a specialty of all these fancy cloths; new vicugnes with silk dots, which dots, or pinhead spots are white, on a violet ground; gold color on brown ground; pale blue or cardinal red on a black ground. Vicugna cloths, with spiral stripes in silk, are also charming novelties. Although the clinging Princesse costume, worn without crinoline, is a marked feature of the present fashions a newer mode is to have the entire costume in one piece, instead of in two, as the polonaise and skirt, or in three pieces, as in the bodice, upper and under skirt. The new dresses of a single piece are so trimmed that they simulate a Princesse polonaise; every effort is made to decrease the quantity of materials; not for economy's sake, but to make the skirt as clinging as possible. Crinoline died hard, and drapery apparently follows its example. Ultra elegantes are wearing the back of the overskirt as plain as the front, but it is a fashion by no means general yet. Some of the

NEW DINNER DRESSES

are a combination of three, and even of four materials, all of one tint. The train skirts are usually of gros grain, the bodices and draperies are either brocaded silk or embossed velvet, or Chambery gauze; the bands are satin and the plaitings either crepe lisse or silk. The basques are cut long and plain on the hips; they are not trimmed at the edge, but the ends are hidden under scarf draperies. Pale linden green, cream, pale pink and pale blue, are the colors most frequently selected, and rich embroidery worked on the material, or appliqué borderings of needlework, are the usual trimmings. The quantity of narrow kilting of both crepe and silk used on a single dress exceeds belief. When flowers are selected for one of these dresses, they are arranged either as a garland worn low around the hips, and passing down the centre of the back, or else garlands of different sizes are placed at opposite angles at the sides. Foliage plants are used for pale blue and cream dresses. A low bodice, as well as a high one, is sent home with an elaborate dinner robe; this is rounded at the top, has merely bands for sleeves, is cuirass in form and buttoned at the back. The train is extremely long and narrow, and is accentuated to a point in some cases. Evening dresses from last season can be easily remodeled, as the new ones are a combination of many materials. The point to be observed is that the same tint is used throughout all the materials; the contrast comes from the flowers that trim it. The new evening cloaks are large dolmans of white embossed velvet, or of pale blue or cream color, trimmed with feather bands. Those who possess carriage cloaks of armure silk, lined with fur or of gray camel's hair, richly embroidered or braided and bordered with feathers, often wear them as theater cloaks. The

NEW WINTER STOCKINGS

are worsted with silk, the stripes go across the leg and not down it, but plain silk and spun silk stockings will be much worn, because the boots that extend midway to the knee, and are barred across the instep, are decidedly in favor. These bars or straps are straight, and have a button in the centre, and sometimes this button is of cut steel. The new embroidered braids that seem to have sprung up suddenly are so universally adopted that they are likely to become common before the winter is over. The variety both in the design and coloring of these galloons is beyond belief. Some are on velvet ground, and the pattern appears to be worked in French knots, others in tambour stitch, but the greater number are au passé, and yet they are all produced by machinery. They are exceedingly rich looking, and two to three inches is the usual width. Narrow fur bands are also seen on new winter dresses, and wide fur bands on mantles.

NOVELTIES IN THE MILLINERY LINE.

At the last opening of bonnets for the season, says The Bazar, capotes, close bonnets, and Gainsboro shapes are declared to be the accepted styles. The newest capotes sent out by Virot are very large, with soft puffed crowns, or else broad, smooth ones, and close fronts trimmed with a fine fringe of ostrich feathers laid over a tulle pleating. Beautiful models of these come in pale pink, ivory white, and tilleul or linden green velvet, also in plain gros grain. Those of pink velvet have pink trimmings also; the feather fringe is pink, there are six or seven crushed pink roses (without foliage) massed on the right side, and pink ostrich tips curl down the left. Darker velvet capotes are lightened by folds and face trimming of white plush. Thus a peacock blue velvet capote to match a costume is lined with ivory white plush, and has a plush fillet or band on which is placed a single white rose and dark foliage. A buckle of lophophore feathers holds the gros grain ribbon which trims the crown. Close-clinging bonnets that fit to the sides of the head, are high in front, and have broad crowns sloping off rapidly behind, are the most popular. They are trimmed in the simplest manner by a bias band of velvet an inch and a half wide lined with gros grain that forms two or three piping folds on the upper edge; this band is passed around the crown, lapped high on the right side, where one or perhaps two steel ornaments are stuck, while an ostrich tip or a cluster of cock's plumes trims the left side. The face trimming is a facing with puns, a band or loops of velvet or gros grain of some becoming color. If the short back is objected to on account of the manner of wearing the hair, a coche peigne or comb-like ornament of ribbon loops with long streamers is added. This is made of ribbon three inches wide arranged in three loops that stand upward from the bottom of the crown, two loops turned downward and two long streamers. The straps that cross the loops in the middle are made of the band just described as passing around the crown. This model is excellent for black and other dark velvet or plush bonnets, and is also seen in ivory-white felt, plush and repped silk. The cream-white is fast giving way to the ivory tint and to tilleul, which is cream with green tinges. The ivory-white bonnets have for face trimmings a ruche of valenciennes with roses in it, and long white tulle streamers held by roses; others need dark velvet face trimmings to relieve the hardness of thick white about the face. The dark felt and velvet bonnets of close shape have chenille cord on the edge of the brim, or else they are left plain, with a glimpse of the lighter gros grain facings showing. The trimmings of ribbon or of gros grain are merely twisted around the crown, or else arranged in upturned loops, with short ends that are also turned upward; and if made of ribbon, these ends are notched in saw-teeth points. For young ladies, are the loveliest Gainsborough bonnets—not hats in the exaggerated shapes worn during the summer, but oddly shaped, one-sided bonnets of black or dark velvet made gay with clusters of roses, and requiring a handsome and elaborate coiffure beneath them, and, more than all else, a young face. For such a setting these bonnets make an appropriate frame, especially with dressy carriage toilettes. Worn with plain faces that have lost their youth, they are absurd caricatures. A black velvet Gainsborough has for its only touch of color two or three cardinal roses stuck in the front on the back of the velvet band. A velvet band piped with silk is around the crown. Two black ostrich tips fastened on top of the brim nodding over on the race trimming, and a wing of a blackbird is on the left side erect against the brim, which is turned up only at the point. New velvet turbans are made very large, with handkerchief crowns that give the true Oriental effect. The brim of the turban is high, and covered with six or seven plaits of velvet, turned upward, lapping, and passed around the head. The soft crown is then covered with a three-cornered piece of velvet, which hangs in two ends behind that are edged with lace. A cluster of flowers and feather tips posed on the left side is the only trimming.

ANECDOTE OF SIR ISAAC NEWTON.

When Newton took up his residence in London, his next neighbor was a widow lady, who was much puzzled by the little she had observed of the philosopher. One of the fellows of the royal society of London called upon her one day, when among other domestic news she mentioned that some one had come to reside in the adjoining house who she felt was a poor crazy gentleman: "because," she continued, "he diverts himself in the oddest way imaginable. Every morning, when the sun shines so brightly that we are obliged to draw the window blinds, he takes his seat in front of a tub of soap-suds, and occupies himself for hours blowing soap-bubbles through a common clay pipe, and intently watching them till they burst. He is doubtless now at his favorite amusement," she added; "do you come and look at him."

The gentleman smiled, and then went up stairs, when after looking through the window into the adjoining yard, he turned around and said: "My dear madam, the person whom you suppose to be a poor lunatic is no other than the great Sir Isaac Newton studying the refraction of light upon thin plates, a phenomenon which is beautifully exhibited upon the surface of a common soap-bubble."

The Newport Daily News and the Newport Journal.

The Newport Daily News is published every afternoon, (Sundays excepted,) at the News building, 13 Church street, by Davis & Pitman.

The Newport Journal is published at the same office every Saturday morning, and contains a selection of the best matter in the Daily, including editorial discussions of the topics of the week, literary miscellanies, and at least one good story, the latest markets, and a complete and comprehensive summary of the news,—local and general. The Journal is a large, 32 column paper, and contains more reading matter than any other paper in the southern part of the state.

Complaints regarding the irregular or improper delivery of either paper should be sent to the office at once.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Ordinary advertisements, $1 a square, for the first insertion, and 25 cents for each continuance. Ten lines or less, in this type, make a square. Advertisements in reading matter, are charged for, at 50 per cent. extra. A discount on these rates is allowed on all advertisements ordered for one week or longer. Funeral notices 50 cents each. Yearly advertisers are limited to their immediate business and are allowed twenty five changes a year. No gratuitous advertising for any object.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

The Daily News, $5 per annum, or 12 cents a week, to carrier.

The Newport Journal, $2 per annum, or $1.50 if the whole year is paid for strictly in advance.

PRINTING.

Connected with the News is the largest general printing office in the city. All orders for work in this department will be promptly filled, and at reasonable prices. The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1876.

THE DAY.

Jefferson Davis has gone to Europe. He wore men's clothes.

The court of common pleas is in session at the state house.

That eastern cyclone it is now reported destroyed 120,000 lives.

The Providence Daily Sun is announced to appear today. It will shine for all.

It is too early yet to tell who is to be our next president. We can afford to wait.

The newspapers of the politically savage order are all sure as to the result of the election. Sensible people prefer to wait until the votes are counted.

A shocking accident occurred at a Sacramento theatre Saturday night when seven persons were killed and one hundred others more or less severely injured.

Bishop Medley, Bishop Whipple, Stephen H. Tyng, Jr., Rev. Father Benson and other prominent Episcopal clergymen officiated in Boston yesterday having remained over from the Church Congress.

Hon. Thomas Swann, who has recently purchased the estates near the cliff cottages, was re-elected to congress from one of the Baltimore districts by 2,659 majority. He is at present chairman of the committee on the foreign relations in the house.

On Friday evening our fellow townsman Hon. William Beach Lawrence had the privilege of spending a few hours with Hon. Samuel J. Tilden in New York. Mr. Lawrence states that the democratic candidate is sanguine of success and has no fears of the result.

It is proposed to give the Centennial Commission some worthy testimonial in recognition of their eminent and successful services in connection with the great exhibition. A committee has been appointed to devise ways and means, of which our summer townsman, Fairman Rogers, is a member.

One pool holder in New York who has $400,000 in his hands declares that he will not surrender it until Tilden signs a statement that he believes Hayes to be elected or Hayes signs one that he believes Tilden to be elected. As the prospects are that neither of them will ever do such a thing, the pool holder appears to have the best of it.

The following correspondence puts at rest the story that Mr. Corliss is ineligible as a presidential elector in this state :

New York, Nov. 18.

GOV. LIPPITT.—It is reported here on the authority of Mr. William Beach Lawrence, that one of the republican electors of Rhode Island is ineligible, and that the law of your state gives the office to the person having the highest vote, who is qualified. Lawrence claims to be elected himself.

D. E. SICKLES.

To this the governor replied as follows:

Our state laws provide for all contingencies in case of vacancies from any cause in the electoral college. This state will give four votes for Hayes and Wheeler.

H. LIPPITT.

Hon. Caleb Cushing has expressed the opinion that no postmaster or other officer is disqualified for holding the position of presidential elector, provided he resigns his office before accepting the electorship. Persons holding certain offices cannot legally be commissioned and act as electors, but there is no time set for the surrender of the office, and in the absence of definite provisions, it must be that their official or non-official character is to be decided at the time of accepting the new trust. If this is not correct, when must the official character be changed? The appointment is not complete, says Mr. Cushing, until the certificate of the elector is delivered to him, and if he is then holding no other office he may serve.

The community will regret to learn that Mr. Charles B. Coddington, so well and so favorably known here and elsewhere, died at the residence of his mother on Church street, this morning. He has passed through a long and severe sickness, and though we have missed his familiar form from our streets we were not yet prepared for the news of his death. Mr. Coddington was the child of early misfortune but was still one of the most cheerful and happy men, when in health, that we have ever met. His company was desired and sought by all who knew him and the attachments existing between him and those with whom he associated were of the strongest and most tender character. A sketch of his life will undoubtedly be given to the public at no distant day.

PANE PICTURES.

BY ROSE TERRY COOKE.

A wonder-worker all night long
Has wrought his task for me;
Now, by the cold and distant dawn,
His miracles I see;
His gravings on the window pane,
Of magic tracery.

Here lifts an Alpine summit, steep
As is the heavenly stair,
A way-side cross below the path,
But not a pilgrim there;
No sad face of humanity,
No agony of prayer.

And here, before a lonely lake,
A fringe of reeds and fern;
Across the water's crystal chill
No dying sunsets burn,
You hear not on that rushy shore
The call of drake or tern.

Here lies a crowd of broken boughs;
A windfall in the woods:
Some wild and wandering hurricane
Path wrecked these solitudes:
But on that tangled dreariness
No living step intrudes.

And here is Arctic waste and woe;
A glacier's mighty face,
Majestic in its awful march,
Slow seaward from its place,
Beneath that frown of solemn death
There lives no human trace.

But slowly from the joyful East
Ascends the dawning sun:
Before his look of light and life
The magic is undone:
The graceful pictures on the pane
All vanish, one by one.

Alas! must all the songs I sing,
The fancies of my brain,—
The little stories sad and glad,—
Be uttered all in vain?
And vanish when the Master comes,
Like pictures on the pane?

Or will they, in some kindly heart
Remembered, sing and shine,
For wrought from man's humanity,
Not fleeting frost, are mine;
I love not to be quite forgot:
To die and leave no sign.

—[Scribner for December.

OPINION OF HORATIO SEYMOUR.

Ex-Governor Seymour of New York takes very strong ground in opposition to changing the method of choosing the president and vice-president by popular vote instead of by electors. He declares the plan antagonistic to the theory and structure of our constitutions, and argues with great force and plausibility that the electoral system was especially designed by the wisdom of the founders of the republic to protect the interests and rights of minorities. He insists that while every civilized government claims to represent the popular will, the distinctive features of our Federal and most of the state constitutions are not that they aim to give power to majorities, but that they aim to protect the rights of all, and this is done by methods absolutely different from anything attempted elsewhere. In support of his opinion, that it is not desirable and will not be advantageous to make the election of the two highest offices more dependent upon the direct expression of the popular will, he cites the opinions of the fathers of the republic, who, he says, "did not stop with declarations, but fortified the rights of states and persons by placing the judiciary above the executive and the law-making power; and this," he says, "is the great distinguishing feature of our government. If Congress enacts an unconstitutional law the courts can set it aside, even if the rights of but one citizen are infringed upon standing against the desires of a whole people." In further illustration of the idea that it would not be in harmony with the plan and scope of our institution, he says: "The most powerful branch of Congress, the Senate, cannot be controlled by the majority. About one-fourth of the people of the United States have as many Senators as the remaining three-fourths. This inequality, in principle if not in degree, was designed by the framers of the Constitution to keep the majority in check, and to protect the rights and interests of the states having small populations against those having larger populations. "The very necessities of their situation" he continues, "forced our fathers to frame their general and state governments upon principles the very reverse of those which usually mark the policy of nations." The results of 100 years have shown their wisdom, and, in his opinion it would be a most fatal error to introduce a change so radical as that proposing to elect our chief rulers by the bare majority upon a popular vote rather than by the present method in which the democratic and Conservative elements are united to insure the most wise and just conclusions to which humanity can attain.

OUT OF BONDAGE.

The Hyers Sisters' combination produced the musical drama, "Out of Bondage," at the Chelsea Academy of Music last evening for the first time in this immediate vicinity. There was a crowded house and the performance gave immense satisfaction. The play was written by Joseph B. Bradford of this city expressly for the Hyers' Sisters, and it serves to introduce these talented young ladies and several other performers in a large number of musical selections. These are introduced incidentally to the action of the piece, which opens on a Southern plantation before the war, and is carried through to a better condition of things for the colored race after the struggle is over. The plot is very slight, but the several scenes are constructed with much ingenuity and afford opportunities for some very clever character-acting on the part of several members of the company. There are an old couple, Uncle Eph and Aunt Naomi, played respectively by J. W. Luca and Miss May Daniels, and the four others who figure in the play are younger viz., Narcisse (Miss Anna M. Hyers), Kaloolah (Miss Emma L. Hyers), Henry (Mr. Sam Imeas) and Prince (Mr. Wallace King). The young people remove "Up North" with the Union army, leaving the old folks behind them. Five years later they are found in the north by old Uncle Eph and Aunt Naomi, who are not a little astonished to find "dem chillun" wearing good clothes and putting on all the refined ways of the white folks, which they are enabled to do through the employment of their talent as vocalists. In the early scenes Kaloolah is a sort of Topsy and Henry is an overgrown boy of mischievous proclivities. Both characters are admirably sustained. Sam Lucas, who is really a very talented comedian, is especially amusing in certain scenes. A number of jubilee songs occur in the course of the piece, and all of them are rendered very sweetly. Miss Anna Hyers, too, sings several solos with extremely fine effect. In making particular mention of Miss Anna and Mr. Sam Lucas, we have no desire to ignore the others, all of whom did themselves great credit, and contributed materially each in his or her way to the success of the representation. Mr. King was particularly successful in his tenor songs in the concert at the conclusion of the play. In a word, "Out of Bondage" is an immense hit. It should by all means be seen on the Boston stage.—[Boston Journal.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

—The Tallapoosa is expected at this port soon.

—The storm signal was ordered up early yesterday morning.

—Wm. J. Monroe and family have gone to Boston for the winter.

—Thanksgiving is to be celebrated by a grand rifle tournament in this city.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Tompkins have gone to Boston to spend the winter.

—Mr. Daniel Torrance, one of our summer residents, has been appointed receiver of the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad.

—The hook and ladder truck has been thoroughly repaired and painted and will go into commission this afternoon.

—The newly elected members of engine company No. 4 will be sworn in and the company organized at the engine house on Oak street this evening at 8 o'clock.

—The schooner Idaho has been chartered to take the cargo of coal of the schooner Henry Gibbs to New Bedford, for which place it was originally shipped.

—Rev. M. A. Nolan of New York will lecture before the Newport Catholic Literary Association at the Opera House Tuesday evening Nov. 28. Subject, Our Church, Our Country.

—Thomas Burlingham sold at auction today the estate of Rev. T. Logan Murphy on Kay street and Everett place, containing house and 20050 feet of land, to Alfred Smith, for $1276[illegible].

—Nathan H. Gould reports that he has purchased a farm of 1300 acres in Texas whither he has gone for a future residence. This looks like business in a new field of enterprise.

—The news from South Carolina had a depressing effect upon our democratic friends on Saturday and both of the telegraph offices were visited repeatedly to get the reports confirmed or denied.

—The ladies of Zion church met at the room of Rev. E. H. Ketfell at the Perry House Saturday afternoon in the absence of the rector and laid the floor with a fine Brussels carpet, and hung the windows with curtains. A library table, a book case and other furniture are to be added.

—The members of the Newport Gymnasium met at the hall on Levin street Saturday afternoon. The officers chosen for the present season are J. R. Leslie, president; T. W. Higginson, treasurer; L. Pell-Clarke, secretary, and R. L. Willing, H. H. Swinburne and Geo. E. Waring, 3d, executive committee. Several propositions in reference to an instructor were submitted and the meeting adjourned to Tuesday afternoon when it is hoped that a leader may be engaged.

—At the annual examination of the New York Nautical school, which took place on board the schoolship St. Mary's in New York harbor, the silver medal of the Life Saving Association was presented to Alexander Wadworth and A. R. Warren, two of the boys. These were in recognition of their acts of heroism in jumping overboard and rescuing a shipmate, William Whitley, who fell from aloft and was seriously injured in this harbor September 26, this year, a report of which appeared in our columns at the time.

SUNDAY SERVICES.—The pulpit of the United Congregational church was occupied yesterday by Rev. Mr. Vose, and that of the Second Baptist church by Rev. Dr. Stockbridge, both of Providence. They are very able preachers and were listened to with much interest. The Rev. Joseph Cook, the celebrated Boston lecturer, is announced for the former church next Sabbath.

The Rev. Mr. Magill officiated at Emmanuel Church in the morning and the Rev. R. B. Peet preached at Zion in the evening. Mr. Magill gave his closing discourse on Transubstantiation at Trinity in the afternoon and preached again at the Chapel on the Point in the evening.

CARRIGAN STILL UNSUBDUED.

The irrepressible Carrigan mentioned in our issue of Saturday was arrested the same afternoon by Captain Hammond, assisted by Officer Collins. It appears that several times during the day he attempted to effect an entrance into the Bickerton building, occupied by George Dennison, Jr., opposite the police station but which is now closed to the public. He said he wanted to place his stock of produce there which he had removed from his store on Bellevue avenue. He seemed to think that he had a right to break in. Late in the afternoon he became very abusive to everybody in that neighborhood. Capt. Hammond thought it about time that a restraint was placed upon him, but when he attempted to arrest him, he ran away a short distance but soon returned and insulted the captain in the most outrageous manner, and finally attempted to strike him with a horse weight. The captain promptly arrested him. He is certainly not in a condition to be at large and was accordingly safely placed in a cell at the police station to the relief of the neighborhood. Yesterday morning, strange to say, he was again released and given full liberty to go about and do as he pleased. His friends believe that he is insane, but it is evident that rum has much to do with it.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

NOVEMBER TERM, A. D., 1876.

MONDAY MORNING—FIRST DAY.

The court of common pleas within and for the county of Newport commenced the November session today. The court came in at 10.15, His Honor, Judge Burges, presiding. The court proceeded at once to call the docket and mark for trial such cases as are likely to be prepared therefor, and in various ways to dispose of the rest. The jurors do not appear until tomorrow morning, so there could be no trials today.

The docket is an unusually large one, and if parties were generally ready for trial, would occupy a fortnight, at least. The labors of the grand jury tomorrow will be light, as there are no cases from Newport to be placed before them, and not more than one or two at present expected from the rest of the county. Of the old docket fourteen cases were continued, fourteen were marked for trial, four were passed for the present, four were marked "no trial," and one was discontinued. Of the new entries one was marked for trial, seven settled or not entered, one left submits judgment, and in two cases motion was made for surety for costs. The calling of the docket and arguments of motions to the court occupied the morning to the hour of adjournment.

REAL ESTATE IN NEW YORK.

Some great hits, says a correspondent of the Rochester Chronicle, have been made in Broadway property and some great losses have been incurred here. At present it may be said that hardly a building has been erected in Broadway during the last seven years which could today be sold at cost. Perhaps the Evening Post establishment is the only exception. It occupies the best corner in the street and was built since the shrinkage set in. The other fine structures would suffer a heavy loss were they put into the market. For instance, the Domestic sewing machine building, corner of Fourteenth street would not bring within $100,000 of its cost. Stewart's palace of fashion could not be sold today except at a shrinkage of $300,000. The Telegraph building, corner Dey street, cost $2,000,000 and would not bring $1,000,000. The New York Life Insurance building cost $1,200,000, and would not sell for more than two thirds that sum. For a few years has prevailed a rage for grand buildings, which has passed away, leaving a bitter experience. Many of the grand structures can hardly pay three per cent on the investment, and as most of them are mortgaged there is great difficulty in meeting interest. If there be any one in trouble just now it is the owners of splendid architecture.

PERSONALS.

.....E. S. Stokes is in Philadelphia organizing a company of "pavement layers."

.....Dr. Brown-Sequard, after the long absence of thirteen years, intends to resume practice in London at an early date.

.....Count Von Arnim has been informed that a pardon awaits him by the government if he would return to Germany.

.....H. W. Longfellow has been chosen poet for the centennial celebration of Burgoyne's surrender at Saratoga Oct. 18, 1877.

.....The Barnabee Concert Company left last week for their trip West, to be gone a little over a month.

.....Payson's English Opera Company will appear in Aurora, Dixon, Sycamore, and other towns this week.

.....Lucius Robinson, governor-elect of New York, will resign his place as comptroller between the 10th and 17th of December, after he has written his report for the legislature. After that he will write his inaugural.

.....Captain Bogardus killed twenty-six out of thirty double birds at twenty-one yards rise, in two minutes and fifteen seconds, at a tournament of sportsmen held at Memphis, Tenn., last week.

.....On the recommendation of Lord Beaconsfield, Queen Victoria has conferred a pension of £100 a year on Mrs. Lane, widow of Edward William Lane, the Oriental scholar and translator of "Arabian Nights."

.....John Stevenson declares that his grand-uncle, Robert Fulton, instead of being born in Pennsylvania, of Irish parents, as his American biographers say, was Scotch, and was born in Leith in Ayrshire.

.....A correspondent has met Mr. Henage of the English diplomatic service, who has just married the Princess Salm-Salm, and asked him where he was going to settle "Oh," said he, "we don't know yet. My wife is living at Pettersburg and I in London till we see how we suit each other."

.....Edward King, having given the readers of the Boston Journal excellent letters from the centennial for the past six months, now has flown like the other birds of passage, away from pleasant Philadelphia, which is now relapsing into its normal quiet. We may meet with him again in other fields and in quite interesting ones. He has returned to Europe, to give glimpses of the perturbed, romantic, picturesque life of the older nations, perhaps —who knows—to look upon fresh battles, new campaigns.

.....The Russian novelist, Ivan Tourguenief, now about sixty years old, and living in Paris, has just finished a new novel, in which he will depict the Russian society of five or six years ago, and will discuss the social and political questions by which it was then agitated. Some rumors assert that he will, to a certain extent, rehabilitate the character of the younger and more impulsive generation of Russian thinkers, whose feelings he somewhat, though unintentionally wounded by the vigor with which he used the literary scalpel while vivisecting the Nihilistic characters which figure in his "Fathers and Children," probably his greatest work.

The structures that are to remain on the centennial grounds are the main building, Machinery Hall, Memorial Hall Horticultural Hall, St. George's building, the German pavilion, the Japanese building, and the Ohio state building.

BUYING HIS FIRST GLASSES.

However men may differ in other respects, they all grow old before they die, provided they live; and all have to wear glasses sooner or later. The first purchase of a pair of glasses is an important epoch in a man's life and reveals an interesting phase of his character to the optician, who by the way, has a fine opportunity to study human nature through eye-glasses. From one of these optical philosophers we learn that the average man begins to feel the need of glasses shortly after he passes the fortieth milestone—maybe sooner, maybe later. He begins by remarking to his wife that his eyesight (the average man always says eyesight) is beginning to fail. After he has said this about two hundred times she advises him to get a pair of glasses. This is what he was waiting for and he concludes to do it. Not that he really needs them, for he feels as young as ever—in fact, doesn't believe he ever will be anything but a boy, but then it is better to preserve the eyes, especially when a man has good ones. So one day he goes to the optician's, a little timid, like a young fellow going to get shaved for the first time, and a little proud to think that he is about to mount such a badge of respectability as a pair of glasses—for all men wear glasses—when they are compelled to. So he approaches the optician with a half-patronizing, half-confidential air, and says he has been straining his eyes a good deal lately and believes he ought to save them a little. The optician understands his case at once, discourses a little on the value of good eyes and the duty of taking care of them, mentally guesses at the man's age, and gets out a few pairs of glasses which he thinks may suit. Then he casually asks his age, and the man tells it. He would lie about it, as he has often done before, but this is a matter of dollars and cents, and he feels obliged to tell the truth, as no man wants to buy glasses several years too young for him. Hardly any person has such a hankering after glasses as that. Besides, the optician is a sort of confessor. He asks everybody's age, and everybody makes an exception in his case and tells the truth, even women.

When he learns his customer's age he selects a pair of glasses, fits them on his nose, discoursing meanwhile about the importance of always setting one's glasses just right; then holds a paper at precisely the right focal distance, and asks how they do. The man looks very grave and wise, moves the paper back and forth, turns his head on one side, shuts one eye, then the other, then squints with both, moves his head toward the paper, then the paper from his hand, looks for some smaller type and goes through the same motions, then for larger type, then takes the glasses off and reads a little, rubs his eyes, puts them on again, looks across the street towards a sign, then goes to the glass and surveys himself. The last is an important part of the operation. He thinks he looks odd but rather handsome. Ninety nine men out of a hundred think glasses are becoming to them. Walking back with a dignified stride he asks the price. Then he tells the optician that he doesn't suppose that he needs glasses at all, that he never felt younger in his life, etc. The optician has heard this a thousand times, but listens to it with kindly interest, and again remarks on the importance of preserving the eyes while young. After trying a score or more pairs the purchaser finally settles down on the pair which the optician knew he would take from the beginning, and says he will try those. As he hands out the price he feels for the first time that he is growing old. A swift vision flits across his memory of how his grandfather used to look with his silver-bowed spectacles on top of his head, and a thousand other thoughts follow in its train. All this while the optician is making his change. As he pockets his glasses and steps out into the street he straightens himself up, steps off with very unwonted briskness, and mentally remarks that he never felt younger in his life. There just two persons in the world who know he is lying—the optician and his wife.

FALL RIVER.

The News says fifty nine residents of Fall River, all or mostly Englishmen, were naturalized Friday at New Bedford. They will help elect a reform ticket at our city election.

Mr. Geo. F. Mellen has not as yet found any clue to his team, which was stolen from in front of his office two weeks ago. A reward of $25 for any information that will lead to the recovery of the property is offered.

A meeting of a number of citizens in favor of a more rigid economy in the administration of municipal affairs, was held in the Grand Army hall Friday evening. The meeting was quite fully attended, and addresses were made by several gentlemen in favor of earnest and determined effort at the ensuing election to bring about the end desired by placing in office the best men,—men judicious, prudent and honest, who are above the tricks of the demagogue or the low arts of the pot-house politician. It is hoped that the tax-payers in the several wards will take steps immediately to accomplish this most desirable end, if they would avoid a repetition of the disgraceful management which has characterized some of the departments of our municipal government in the past.

"Sowansset" writes from the Vineyard: The whole cottage city is reposing in quiet loveliness, and the cottages look so fresh and bright in their varied and tasty colors, that they do not suggest the idea of death or desertion, but the thought that the occupants have gone a visiting long enough to have them put in order. Of course the Vineyard railroad is not in operation, and from the financial report recently published, we should presume it never would be, but probably some way out of the dilemma will be found; perhaps, as is its wont, the Old Colony will come to the rescue.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

TO WORRY THE LIVER

And injure the system generally, take blue pills and calomel. To regulate it, and endow the entire system with healthful vigor, use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Bilious invalids, which of these two recipes will you adopt? We doubt not, the latter. By so doing, you will avoid the disastrous consequences which the persistent or frequent use of mercury entails, and effectuate the desired reform in the action of the biliary gland without danger, as well as speedily and thoroughly. The Bitters invariably remedy yellowness of the complexion and whites of the eyes, pains in the right side and under the right shoulderblade, furred tongue, high colored urine, nausea, vertigo, dyspepsia, constipation, heaviness of the head, mental despondency, and every other manifestation or accompaniment of a disordered condition of the liver. The stomach, bowels and kidneys also experience their regulating and tonic influence.

nov15

FALSE IMPRESSIONS.

It is generally supposed by a certain class of citizens, who are not practical or experienced, that dyspepsia can not invariably be cured, but we are pleased to say that Green's August Flower has never, to our knowledge, failed to cure dyspepsia and liver complaint in all its forms, such as sour stomach, costiveness, sick headache, palpitation of the heart, low spirits, &c., &c. Out of 30,000 dozen bottles sold last year, not a single failure was reported, but thousands of complimentary letters received from druggists of wonderful cures. Three doses will relieve any case. Try it. Sample bottles 10 cents. Regular size 75 cents. For sale by James H. Taylor.

Delays are dangerous, and persons suffering from Dropsy, Bright's Disease, Kidney, Bladder and Glandular Maladies, Mental and Physical Debility, should at once take HUNT'S REMEDY. Retention and Incontinence of Urine, Female Irregularities, and in fact all affections of the Urino-Genital Organs, are cured by Hunt's REMEDY.

DIED.

GODDINGTON.—In this city, 20th inst., Charles Brooks, son of the late William J. and Eliza L. Coddington.

The funeral will take place from the Unitarian Church, Mill street, on Wednesday afternoon at 1½ o'clock. Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, FOR THE CURE OF CONSUMPTION, COUGHS AND COLDS.

The great virtue of this medicine is that it ripens the matter and throws it out of the system, purifies the blood, and thus effects a cure.

SCHENCK'S SEA WEED TONIC, FOR THE CURE OF DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, &C.

The tonic produces a healthy action of the stomach, creating an appetite, forming chyle, and curing the most obstinate cases of indigestion.

SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS, FOR THE CURE OF LIVER COMPLAINT, &C.

These pills are alterative, and produce a healthy action of the liver, without the least danger, as they are free from calomel, and yet more efficacious in restoring a healthy action of the liver.

These remedies are a certain cure for consumption, as the Pulmonic Syrup ripens the matter and purifies the blood. The Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, create a healthy bile, and remove all diseases of the liver, often a cause of consumption. The Sea Weed Tonic gives tone and strength to the stomach, makes a good digestion, and enables the organs to form good blood; and thus creates a healthy circulation of healthy blood. The combined action of these medicines, as thus explained, will cure every case of consumption, if taken in time, and the use of the medicines persevered in.

Dr. Schenck is professionally at his principal office, corner SIXTH and ARCH STS., Philadelphia, every Monday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. nov9 eod-1m

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1876.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES.

STORE PIGS should have clean, dry pens, and be fed upon mixed food. The causes of most of the diseases affecting swine, are corn, corn, corn, continually: and filth uninterruptedly. Corn is an imperfect food, containing too much carbo-hydrates, and not enough nitrogen and phosphates. Along with wheat or rye bran, roots, milk, and occasionally some chaffed and moistened clover hay, corn is well enough; but a mixed diet, a dry, clean bed, an abundance of clean water, and good ventilation, are necessary if one would have healthy pigs.

HORSES.—Pasture has lost its value now, and the nights are too cold for horses to be kept out of the stable. Colts should have a pint of oats daily, and be halter broken. Their education should be begun now, and the first thing to be done is to accustom them to handling, brushing, and restraint. Patience and kindness with the colt will go far to form a good disposition in the future horse.

SUNDRY MATTERS.—A safe lantern should be procured for the stable and barn. If kerosene oil is used, only those kinds that are known to be safe should be purchased. The small extra cost is nothing as compared with safety from accident. No farmer can afford to go uninsured. Choose a well known, safe company in which to insure. Painting can be done better and cheaper now than at any other time; there are no dust nor flies to spoil the paint. Leaves should be gathered for bedding; there is nothing safer in the brood-sow's pen. Stones and stumps may be cleared off, cellars banked up, cleaned, and whitewashed, and every tool and implement cleaned and stowed away.—[Agriculturist for November.

CHILDREN TEETHING

MRS. WINSLOW'S

SOOTHING SYRUP,

For Children Teething, greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is Sure to Regulate the Bowels.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and Relief and Health to Your Infants.

We have put up and sold this article for years, and CAN SAY IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience. AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in

Thousands of Cases.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve Griping in the Bowels, and Wind Colic.

We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—DO NOT LET YOUR PREJUDICES, NOR THE PREJUDICES OF OTHERS, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle.

Be sure and call for

"Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup,"

Having the fac-simile of "CURTIS & PERKINS" on the outside wrapper.

Sold by druggists throughout the world. aug17-6m

MASON & HAMLIN

CABINET ORGANS

Have been unanimously assigned the

"FIRST RANK

in the SEVERAL REQUISITES"

Of such instruments, at the

and are the only organs assigned this rank. Their superiority is thus declared, not in one or two respects only, but in all the important qualities of an organ. A medal and diploma have also been awarded them, but medals of equal value were awarded all articles deemed worthy of recognition, so that many makers can advertise "first medals" or "highest awards."

Comparative rank in excellence, has been determined by the Judges' reports alone, in which the MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS are unanimously assigned "the FIRST RANK in the several requisites" of such instruments, and are the only ones assigned this rank. See judges' reports. This result was not unexpected, for these organs have uniformly taken highest awards in such competitions, there being less than six exceptions in hundreds of comparisons. They were awarded first medals, and highest honors at Paris 1867, Vienna 1873, Santiago 1875, Philadelphia 1876; having thus been awarded highest honors at every world's exhibition at which they have competed, and being the only American organs which ever obtained any award in Europe.

NEW STYLES, with improvements exhibited at the CENTENNIAL; elegant new cases in great variety. Prices very low, consistent with best material and workmanship. Organs sold for cash or installments, or rented until rent pays. Every organ warranted to give entire satisfaction to every reasonable purchaser or the money returned. THE SUPERIORITY OF THE

REMINGTON

Sewing Machine

Is acknowledged by competent judges in the following particulars:

1. It is constructed on the soundest mechanical principles.
2. It is made with the best material by the best workmen.
3. Its wearing surface is more evenly distributed than that of other shuttle machines.
4. It has no harsh jarring motions.
5. It runs much lighter, stiller, and with less wear than other shuttle machines.
6. There is less wear on the needle bar and cam than in other machines.
7. Less motion is given to the shaft, carrying the needle bar and feed than in other machines.
8. The feed is positive, silent and automatic.
9. The length of the stitch is more easily regulated.
10. The needle is more easily threaded. There are no holes for the thread to pass through, but the eye of the needle.
11. There is no wear or strain on the thread to set it firmly in the cloth.
12. It has no objectional levers, no heavy rotary cams, no noisy cog wheels, which are always going or breaking.
13. It is so constructed that it can run twice the speed, do double the work and last twice as long a other shuttle machines.

TO THE LOVERS of STEREOSCOPIC VIEWS.

☞ ATTENTION of the public is invited to the following views from negative by J. A. WILLIAMS, which is believed to be the best and largest collection of the gems of Newport scenery ever offered.

The negatives are all carefully taken with the best materials and instruments and aim to present not merely pictures of landscapes from points chosen at random (as is the case with many others), but, views which shall combine within themselves all the best elements of a picture in the artistic sense.

We would call particular attention to our new cabinet size views taken the present season, 1876, which exhibit with all the fidelity of the stereoscope.

Parties who may wish to make presents to their friends abroad, or to carry home memories of Newport, cannot make a more acceptable choice than by selecting from the many beautiful views of Newport and surroundings.

Interiors and orderings of houses taken to order, parties horses, &c.

Horses & Carriages.

A. Stewart & Co.'s

Stable, Livery and Boarding Stables, 7 & 11 Pelham Street.

First-class Horses and Carriages to rent by the month. Coachman in livery if desired. Gentlemen wishing good winter quarters and pasturage for horses for further particulars will please inquire of A. Stewart & Co., 4 and 11 Pelham Street. jy7

Fall Campaign of 1876.

TO ALL who wish to go through the exciting presidential election with their good reputation unspotted, I will say that the best and cheapest way is to come direct to my carriage depot and purchase a good serviceable carriage with which you can rush over and by all political orators who are trying to make the dear people think just now that the salvation of our great country depends upon the people following their advice instead of each voter thinking and acting for himself. If each voter will follow this advice our country is safe.

I offer to sell cheap the following

CARRIAGES:

9 top buggies all in good order and newly painted.
4 half top barouches.
1 Brownell carryall; second-hand, in good order.
1 coupe or storm carryall, cheap.
2 new phaeton buggies.
6 open wagons cheap.
1 new carryall.
1 new express wagon.
1 new open business wagon cheap.
4 double express wagons.
1 two horse extension carryall.
2 nice dog carts.
8 two horse sleighs, (better buy now,) and several others.

Thanking my friends for their very liberal patronage during the past. By their kindness I have been able to dispose of over forty different carriages—a very good sale for Newport. I still hope by fair dealing to merit a continuance of their favors.

HOUSE PAINTING.

Now is the time to make arrangements for fall and winter house painting, and as I don't propose to call and annoy people at their residences by asking them for work and promising to do more work and better work than my brother painters can do for the same money; but, if people wanting anything done in the painting line from glazing a light of glass to painting a hotel, will call on me or drop a note to box 24, I will do the utmost to please, and will warrant all work entrusted to my care, to be done as agreed and at the time specified. My reference is the parties whom I have worked for, for the past ten years or more.

Respectfully,
A. G. BORDICK,
House and carriage painter.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY.

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS.

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

No. 70 State St., opp. Kilby St., Boston.

AFTER AN EXTENSIVE PRACTICE of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms, with despatch. Research made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure Patent, and the usual great delay there, are thus saved Inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part, leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

Let the JOURNAL be compared with any other weekly paper published in the south part of the state and its superiority in the quantity and quality of its contents, particularly in its news departments, will be at once seen. In it are found every week all the minor matters of local news and reports of entertainments, meetings, celebrations, etc., in Newport and vicinity that in fullness and excellence will compare favorably with reports in Boston and other city papers.

We state not so much an opinion as a fact, that will become apparent to any disinterested person who compares it with other papers, when we say that, for all residents of Newport county and all persons who have moved out of the county but wish to keep posted regarding affairs at their old home the best paper without exception
